

Wee Tarot - Controls and Descriptions

Game controls

Option 1 - Shortn'Sweet

Wee Tarot - Controls

A - confirm, advance, select

B - back D-pad - cycle through options / left side of diary

Crank - shuffle deck / right side of diary

Once done, please press the Playdate menu button on the upper right corner of the device and Reset to Title. Leave the table tidy for the next soul.

Option 2 - In Depth

Wee Tarot - Controls

Starting out

A - start from title screen; advance through Dinah's welcome

Up - open Menu (How To, Sounds, Credits)

A - begin a reading (Spread selection)

B - open your Diary

Choosing a reading

Up / Down - move between Spread, Deck, and Seek

Left / Right - change spread or deck filter

A - cycle the highlighted row, or press Seek to begin

B - back to the main screen

Spreads: 1-bit Fortune · Root-Trunk-Branch · Pentagram · Celtic Cross · Horoscope

Decks: Full · Major · Minor · individual suits · Alternate

During a reading

Crank - shuffle the deck (keep turning until it feels right)

A - finish shuffling when prompted, then confirm your chosen card

Left / Right - cycle through cards on the cloth

Up / Down - zoom in and out on a card

The reading

A - advance through the fortune text

B - on the last dialogue, look back at the cloth one last time

Diary

A - unlock and open the diary

D-pad - browse entries and zoom in and out cards (left side of the page)

Crank - scroll text on the right-hand page

B - go back / close

Everywhere else

D-pad Up / Down - move through menu lists

A - confirm

B - back

Once done, please press the Playdate menu button on the upper right corner of the device and Reset to Title. Leave the table tidy for the next soul.

Option 3 - Diegetic controls

Wee Tarot - A few practical bits and bobs before fate gets dramatic

If you're not prompted to press a button, don't fret. Trust the grid, it's your guide.

The following overall rules hold for the lost:

Use the d-pad to cycle through choices.

Press A to confirm and advance.

Press B to back out when you need to.

In readings, crank to shuffle and wake the deck. When the rhythm feels true, press A to step forward.

When looking at the cloth, Left and Right cycle through the cards.

Up and Down zoom in and out. Look closer before you ask them to speak.

Similarly for the Diary: the d-pad works the left side of the page; the crank turns the right.

Take your time. Rushing blurs the mind.

And if the answer feels strange, ask again tomorrow.

When you're finished, press the Playdate menu button on the upper right corner of the device and Reset to Title. Leave the table tidy for the next soul.

Thank you, darling...

Game description

Option 1 - Shortn'Sweet

A wee tarot pull for the Playdate.

A tiny crank-powered ritual offering quick pulls and 1-bit sized readings.

For curious souls, skeptical minds, and the mildly cursed.

Option 2 - Bigger description

Wee Tarot

A Tarot Pull for the Curious Souls, the Skeptical Minds, and the Mildly Cursed

Welcome, darling. The spirits have been expecting you, or maybe it's just coincidence?

Shuffle the deck, stir the crank, and seek guidance for what troubles you.

A tarot game for the Playdate with dry wit, ancient wisdom, and suspicious readings.

This festival build is a preview - the first outing of a major update before it goes live. What you're playing today goes beyond the original release:

- Five spreads - from the original single 1-bit Fortune to the new Root-Trunk-Branch, Pentagram, Celtic Cross, and Horoscope
- Deck filters - full deck, Major Arcana, Minor Arcana, individual suits, or an alternate deck
- Zoom in option - the same cards, just a wee bit bigger.
- A personal diary - past readings kept on the page (spread, date, cards, and whispers)
- Updated - menus, in-game how to guides, animations, art, sounds.

One draw or many. A glimpse or a whole layout. Nothing more... or is it?

Not meant for serious life choices. If your card tells you to quit your job or fight a crow, please think twice. Especially about the crow.

Made with crank-powered intention and love.